A YEAR IN THE MAKING

It may only be one day for onlookers but a Show as large and spectacular as this requires a full year's worth of planning and organisation. Costumes, uniforms, music, banners, horses, instruments, vehicles, technology, ceremony, masks, floats and participants of all ages are brought together in a colourful, raucous, vibrant procession to entertain the crowds and welcome the new Lord Mayor to the role.

As with the ever-changing City they represent, no two Shows are ever the same but you can expect a mix of tradition and modernity with something for everyone. From the grandeur and splendour of the Lord Mayor's Coach, accompanied by the Pikemen and Musketeers, to the community groups with their dazzling outfits and performances to the modern institutions demonstrating their creativity and pride in the City. And that's not including the varied military units, charities, liverymen, and more.

In all more than 7,000 people, 200 horses and around 150 floats will pass in front of you as they travel from Mansion House to the Royal Courts of Justice and back, in a day like no other.

So to really see a year in one day, come along and help celebrate the Lord Mayor's Show and make it a day to remember.

THE ESSENTIALS

Getting here

The City has plenty of train, tube and bus links but please check for service changes.

0343 222 1234

tl.gov.uk

There will be significant road closures and restrictions in place to accommodate the procession so drivers should check in advance.

Seeing it all

Get to the procession route early if you want a good view, especially if you have kids. Busiest parts are likely to be around St Paul's and Mansion House but Cheapside, Fleet Street, Victoria Embankment and Queen Victoria Street are usually clearer.

Best views guaranteed

Why not make sure you get a clear view and a seat from which to enjoy the whole Show by buying tickets for the grandstands? These allow you to enjoy unrestricted views of the procession as it travels to St Paul's from New Change right in front of your eyes. Fully wheelchair accessible spaces are also available but book early as tickets go fast. Ticket prices include a copy of the official Show programme.

Programme

Who is the new Lord Mayor? What are their plans for the year ahead? Who's taking part in the Show? What do the ceremonial roles mean? All these questions and much, much more are answered in the official Lord Mayor's Show programme 2018. It will offer a full run down of all you need to know about the Show as well as being a commemorative souvenir of the event itself. Copies cost £5 and are available throughout the Show route from one of the many volunteers on hand and can also be pre-ordered online or by phone.

lln.co.uk/lms2018 or 020 7426 1031

The Lord Mayor's Show is planned in partnership with the City of London Police.

Fantastic Beasts: Wizarding World Wands supporting Lumos

8 As excitement builds for the 16 November release of Fantastic Beasts: The Crimes of Grindelwald, nine giant wands will be displayed on Peter's Hill. Created in association with J.K. Rowling's charity Lumos, which shines a light on children in orphanages around the world, the art installation reflects the magic of Harry Potter and Fantastic Beasts here in London.

Tower Bridge Exhibition
T: 020 7403 3761
towerbridge.org.uk

9 Tower Bridge will transport you to Victorian London, telling the story of the City's defining landmark from the very beginning. Uncover the history of the world's most famous bridge: hear the stories of the architects, engineers, labourers, divers, cooks and coal stokers behind its construction – along with the people who have operated the Bridge from 1894 to the present day. Immerse yourself in the engineering: get up close to the original steam engines, coal burners and accumulators once used to raise the Bridge's 1,200-ton bascules. And watch City life unfold in dramatic panorama from its high-level Walkways and Glass Floors. 40,000 people cross Tower Bridge each day. Now you can see inside it.

THE CITY OF LONDON CORPORATION THE CITY AND BEYOND

The role of the Lord Mayor
The annually elected Lord Mayor heads the City of London Corporation. This is the governing body of the City, or Square Mile. It is dedicated to a vibrant and thriving City, supporting a diverse and sustainable London within a globally-successful UK. On a day-to-day basis this means providing local government and policing services; it also means supporting and promoting the City as the financial and commercial heart of the UK; and it means supplying a host of services beyond its statutory duties and the Square Mile that benefit London and the UK.

The City Corporation has three main aims:

Supporting a thriving economy The Lord Mayor plays a key role in this area, working with the organisation as a whole, to ensure the City remains a global hub for finance and professional services, commerce and culture. As an international ambassador for UK-based financial and business-related services, the Lord	Mayor spends around 90 days a year leading business delegations abroad to key markets and financial centres. This involves meeting those at the highest level of business and government and promoting the UK's unrivalled legal and regulatory framework and access to global markets. Foreign dignitaries and	heads of state are likewise welcomed by the Lord Mayor to the UK on behalf of the government. As a trusted voice for industry, the Lord Mayor presses Westminster and Whitehall for what businesses need to thrive, such as access to skills and talent. Businesses, in turn, are encouraged to earn trust by being socially and environmentally responsible.

14 Boasting over 60 stores and restaurants, this is the perfect location to shop, dine and 'play' in the City. Spend the weekend taking in breath-taking views of St Paul's from the sixth floor Roof Terrace, followed by a spot of shopping at high street favourites such as Topshop, COS, Reiss, Sweaty Betty and Hackett. One New Change also has a unique food offering with renowned restaurants such as Jamie Oliver's Barbecoa and Gordon Ramsay's Bread Street Kitchen.

Culture Mile
culturemile.london

15 Culture Mile connects everyone to imaginative collaborations and exciting events in the City, from playful pop-up installations through to free family-friendly activities. Stretching just under a mile from Farringdon to Moorgate, you can wander through winding medieval streets, marvel at some architectural wonders and experience incredible music, theatre and art all in one day. This includes Jason Bruges' latest kinetic installation Brutalist Tapestry, currently in the Beech Street Tunnel, and Eley Kishimoto's vibrant Colourful Crossings, outside Barbican tube station.

Shaping outstanding environments

This ranges from looking after 11,000 acres of green space across London to creating and maintaining green and sustainable spaces across the Square Mile; it includes pressing for the infrastructure a modern City and its businesses need to thrive; it means encouraging the construction of the highest quality business properties with associated public areas and landscaping; it covers a digitally well-connected space with efficient transport links; and it means a City that enjoys clean air, land and water.

Contributing to a flourishing society

The City of London Police, the UK's lead force for economic and cyber crime, works to ensure people are safe and feel safe. The City Corporation's educational portfolio covers schools and academies across London that allow pupils to reach their full potential. It also promotes business traineeships and apprenticeships to take them a step further into the world of work. The City Bridge Trust, the City Corporation's grant giving arm, is London's largest grant giver, donating more than £20m every year, to address disadvantage and promote fairness, inclusion and independence. This helps create cohesive communities that have the facilities they need. The City Corporation also works with a range of external partners to encourage good health and wellbeing.

City Walks
cityoflondonguides.com

16 The City of London is the oldest part of London, founded by Romans nearly 2000 years ago. The City is a maze of stories and secrets, and immediately after the Lord Mayor's Show the expert City Guides will be on hand to lead you through some of its historic streets.

You will explore its alleyways and hear fascinating tales. Walks leave from No 1 Poultry (marked on the map and in the Show's app) at 3pm and last for about an hour and a half, are suitable for all ages and wheelchair friendly. No need to book, just turn up. Walks are free, but a donation to the Lord Mayor's Charity Appeal is always welcome.
